Dear Mae Vrussell,

Your unique holiday message reached me today, forwarded from the address we left 28 months ago.

Looks interesting.

I'll read it tonight.

But I read the first page and glanced at the rest.

I've laid aside a book titled AGENT OSWALD to finish others I believe more topical. I'll soon return to it. If you have a copy of your notations on this from the 26, I'd like very much to be able to see it.

I do not have Luttwak's book, but I copyrighted one of the same name before he did and I very much regret his lifting that title, w ich I regard as most appropriate for the work I had done.

Minor suggestions: feebees not under civil service and Goldberg organized rather than wrote WR. He wrote part, rewrote part, as I recall.

Good fight.

Good luck.
